So interested were the voters of the First Ward that when, some days ago, the voters of the ward met to nominate a councilman, delegates to the May concention were elected. The City Central Committee, at its meeting a few nights ago, took the matter up and expressed in the most hearty manner its approval of the idea. A committee of three was appointed to see Secretary Claggett B. Jones and learn from him all they wanted to know, and the committee will go over to Richmond early this week. The larger body will be called then immediately, and such action taken as will be found expedient THE COMMITTEE NAMED.

Ribbon-Mills Sell Out.

Ladies who wear ribbons cannot conof the many thousands of yards of ribbons that are turned out of the United States every day, and the sales of any one kind stopped for two or three weeks, how these mills get overcrowded with stock. Some day last week one of these big mills sold at auction nearly 16,000 pieces, which means 600,000 yards, of Fancy Ribbons, and, of course, the Meyer Store's buyer was there. The Rib-bons that are to be sold for 25c., com-mencing Monday, at Meyer's will convince you that these great sales of the mills bring extraordinary bargains, for the same Fancy Ribbons that have been selling at 39c. and 50c. are to be sold for

Died, at Champlain, his residence in Essex county, Va., on the 9th of April, 1899, Captain John Mercer Garnett, in the 66th year of his age. He was the son of the late Hon. Robert S. Garnett, and brother of General Garnett, who was killed at Carrick's Ford during the war between the States. A brave Confederate soldier himself, and endowed with a fare gift of attracting regard, Captain Gar-nett had won a warm place in the affections of his army comrades, by whom his loss will be universally lamental. His tact, patience, a kindness of heart and cordiality of manner, had rendered him generally beloved, as was strikingly evidenced by the marked interest and sympathy called forth on every side by his brief illness, and by the deep gloom which pervaded the whole community or the news of its fatal termination. He had been called to fill various public of-fices through the esteem and confidence of the people, and was extensively en-gaged in private enterprises, which he made the means of employment and as-sistance to large numbers of both races.

His loss has left a wide void, and will
